MINOT-SLEEPER LIBRARY—REPORT OF TRUSTEES

To the Inhabitants of the Town of Bristol:

The library has had another useful and successful year and the interest of the patrons, of whom there have been 1331 during the year, has been unabated.

Nine thousand four hundred eighty-three books have been loaned from the circulation department. Various individuals have donated books which have been much appreciated and which have been duly acknowledged. The beautiful pictures used by the late Prof. George Phelps in his illustrated lectures were very kindly presented to the library by Miss Irene L. Phelps. About 200 books have been added during the year, including fiction and valuable volumes of travel and history, especially those relating to the World war and the Pilgrims or early New England.

The following magazines furnished by the Jackman fund may be found on the reading tables, viz., American, American Boy, Asia, Atlantic, Century, Country Life, Geographic, Granite Monthly, Harpers, Independent, Independent Woman, Ladies' Home Journal, Leslie's, Literary Digest, Modern Priscilla, North American Review, Open Road, Outlook, Pictorial Review, Popular Mechanics, Review of Reviews, Scribners', Travel, World's Work, Youth's Companion.

There has been nothing during the year requiring extraordinary expense to the town. By reason of the great increase in cost of new books and renewal of desirable old ones, the purchasing power of the funds available for books is much lessened. Still as no new shelf room has been attainable for several years, except in the basement, there is really a great need of an addition to the present building to accommodate the increase in the circulating department, especially.

Patrons and the public should remember their great privilege of helping future generations by a remembrance of the library, either by donation of money during their lifetime or in their wills.

The time of the annual return of books for inspection has been changed from the last Saturday in January to the last Saturday in May of each year.

There has been received during the year for fines and cards $26.19. Paid for freight and cartage on a case of books for rebinding to Boston and return, $3; for supplies, seventy-five cents, leaving a balance of $22.44, which was paid to the treasurer, Dr. G. H. Calley.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

To the Citizens of the School Districts of Bristol:—

I submit herein my second annual report as superintendent of schools.

The facts relating to the schools of the two districts for the school year 1919-'20 are indicated by Table A. I think the citizens of Bristol will be interested also in some comparative figures showing, in certain particulars, a comparison with the other districts in the supervisory union, Table B, and in other particulars with other towns in this part of the state, Table C.

It will be seen (Table B) that all towns of the union, with the exception of Bridgewater, lost population between the census of 1910 and that of 1920. The great majority of the rural towns in the state suffered a similar loss, as did those of the entire country. This movement from country to city, if continued further, spells disaster, and it is the business of every good citizen to do whatever is possible to check it. Is it not plain that good schools are a vital factor in the situation, and that the community which maintains good schools will be able to offer attractions in competition with the city which the one failing to maintain good schools cannot offer.

Table B shows that teachers' salaries have advanced in all the districts, together with most of the costs of maintaining schools, and this has led to greatly increased demands upon the state board. Grants to each district have been largely increased. Every district in the union, except Hebron, has found it necessary to apply for state aid.

Table C is comprehensive enough to give a good idea of the range of salaries of elementary teachers in the rural towns of New Hampshire. The last column shows the heavy cost of educating children in rural districts where each teacher instructs only a small number of pupils. For this table I am indebted to Superintendent W. H. Buker of Meredith, who has lately collected the figures.

Town District

It will be seen (Table A) that two schools completed the full school year of 36 weeks. The two others, because of illness and loss of teachers, fell short some weeks. One school employed two teachers, and one three teachers, during the year. We were fortunate in retaining for the present year three out of four teachers in service at the close of last year. Mrs. Heath, however was obliged to leave her position at the close of the fall term, and the few pupils in the Burleigh school have since been transported to the village school in New Hampton. Table B shows that, while the full year of 36 weeks was not attained by all the schools, the average year of 34 weeks was a marked advance over that of the year before, in which the schools averaged only 29 weeks.

I stated in my last report that it would be necessary to make important changes in school houses in order to make them "suitable and sanitary" within the meaning of the law. After a long delay due to inability to secure workmen, the three buildings now in use have been put in shape. Windows have been added on the left, front windows closed, sanitary toilets ordered, cupboards for books and supplies added, and minor repairs attended to. The ancient hand-made seats and desks at Profile Falls have been replaced by more suitable ones, secured at small cost from a dismantled school house in a neighboring district.

Union District

For the school year 1919-'20 we were fortunate in maintaining our teaching force intact, with the exception of the eighth grade position. This class suffered the handicap of frequent change, having four different teachers during the year. In spite of this fact they did a creditable year's work and nearly all have gone on into the first year of the regular high school.

For the present year we were able to retain four teachers out of the six, Miss Shattuck and Miss Porter declining a re-election. Miss Shattuck's place was taken by Miss Sybil A. Wood, and later by Miss Ellen Frances Bean. Mrs. E. V. Smith was elected in place of Miss Porter, and has taught during the year French and manual training with four grades in each subject.

The elimination last year of the ninth grade and the cutting down of the time necessary to finish the first grades from two years to one has given us for this year eight grades instead of ten, and made it possible to house the entire school in the main building, giving each teacher two grades. This leaves the small building free for other uses. The lower floor has been occupied as a manual training room and the upper as a recitation room for small classes or groups doing extra work.

The reduction in the number of grades, noted above, set free one teacher, so that we have been able, without any addition to the number of teachers, to add manual training for the boys and sewing for the girls to the program for grades V-VIII. The administration of the program has left brief free periods for several teachers, and this time has been used to the greatest advantage in assisting backward individuals and groups.

The reorganization of the seventh and eighth grades into a junior high school has been continued this year by adding manual training and sewing in both grades, and by the beginning of French in the seventh. Concrete geometry has also been included in the mathematics of the seventh grade, in addition to the regular arithmetic.

We have won approval for our two-years high school by the State Board. This was withheld for some time because of our very poor record in the matter of tardinesses. After vigorous efforts to better this record by various means, without success, we applied the drastic rule that pupils who were tardy should not be admitted to school. We do not like this rule, and agree with the disaffected ones who hold that it is unreasonable, but it works, and has won us approval as an efficiently administered school.

I said in my report of last year that I believed that the citizens of Bristol would not be entirely satisfied with their school system until it was a complete system, with full four years' course. I think, however, that this is not the time to take this step of progress, but that we should rather complete the program of the junior high school by the addition of cooking to sewing for the girls, which we can do at slight expense, and make our work in these grades so efficient that we may receive approval from the State Board as a standard school.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES A. BRECK,
Superintendent of Schools.
